National Parks

A permit is required to run in any National Park, as well as certain conditions being met. If unsure, contact Wet & Wild or Yogi Bear & Boo Boo.

We believe that 'National Parks' will be deleted from the above statement in the near future. It will read 'A permit is required to run and have fun.'

The Run:

This run reminded me of a pinball machine. We would run until we hit either a construction site fence, military camp fence or an expressway, at which we would ricochet and bounce off in a different direction.

However, the quarry was a dark hole to be avoided as it would gobble up any runner and no amount of tilting would save them. It was appropriate that Pinball Wizard joined us as a guest.

Tiger Lily went down easy at one stage, having been conned by some childish male members.

Red Snapper grabbed the lead at one stage, which was a bit fishy. A few runners were reluctant to make the climb up a large hill, with Boo, allegedly a Hare, sticking to the road. Wrong.

Climbing the hill, we were given a great view of.... A new MRT depot. Kan Not Kan gave me a detailed history of his running in this area. While intrigued by one particular episode, I put my foot in a pile of horrible looking orange goo. Jack Off couldn't work out how to get across a little stream that was framed by mud on either side. She found a twig to use as a bridge, but it was structurally unsound.

The run took us on a mixture of made trails and jungle, all within a tight area. Eventually the drink stop was found, where beautifully chilled bottles of champagne and chocolates were appreciated by everyone after a 7.5km hit out. Good stuff everyone.

The Circle: Jack Off quickly got things underway, leaving the scribe at the bar still refilling.

Crikey, so what did we think of that for a run? Too many Germans was heard. But definitely a great run.

Tell us about your On On: 'Ladies and gentlemen, tonight's On On will be free,' announced Boo. The Boxers lasagna, salad, soup and entrée sausage rolls.

Next Week's Run: Labrador Park, Two Jugs and Imperfect Member.

Guests: Machine, Bugle Boy, Marc, Slack Arse, Recipric#*t, Pinball Wizard.

Returnees: nope.

Virgins: nope.

Lipstick: Recipric#*t, Father Anus, Bugle Boy, Comes Quietly.

Tits: Comes Quietly awards them to Gypsy, who at a Check deliberately sent Tiger Lily the wrong way. Well done lad.

Dick: Sweet Thighs saw Gypsy and Zipp in matching Chinese New Year shirts. But wait, they should not match, ladies had sleeves and men's was singlet style. Yep, Gypsy had a shirt with sleeves, so he needs the Dick to be more of a man.

Banana Protector: Kan Not Kan suggests Comes Quietly, who once in this area got horribly lost and 6 search parties were needed to find him. Then there was Father Anus, who arriving late decided to play it safe and follow Boo. Little did he know that Boo was not a Hare and had no idea where the run went, resulting in them both getting lost. Don't follow Boo. Mother Tongue, who is not as stupid as she looks, according to KNK is also listed. This resulted in a verbal Mother Tongue lashing for KNK. And finally Boo, a listed Hare, who turned up late in work clothes and his fly undone. Father Anus wins for following Boo.

Awards – nope.

AOB:

News Letter

- Father Anus has been absent for a while, but makes the effort to get here for the Birthday Run. He charges Boo for getting lost on his own run. Father Anus then dropped the banana protector and gave it to Kamala to repair – interesting choice.....
- Jack Off has Boo and Too Easy for birthday wishes and a Boxer cake.
- Fat Crashing Bastard gets in Too Easy and Jack Off for declaring that ‘you need to go all the way if you want quality....’
- Mother Tongue questions if Chris is a fake virgin?? After much probing and examining, it is decided that Chris will now forever be known as ‘Like a Virgin,’ and Jack Off uses the power infested in her to formalize this naming.
- Stiffy declares that relationships can be tricky. He was approached by a female on Monday who told him that hubby is away, join me for some fun on Wednesday.....Stiffy was happy to oblige and said yes. Tuesday he received a call saying it’s all off. He was dumped for another man wearing blue pyjamas and who can’t speak English – Machine.
And to make matters worse, he reads about the $300 Italian meal they shared on Wednesday after the recce.
- Slocum pities Fat Crashing Bastard and charges Too Easy for giving him 20 minutes of instructions on how to set up the drink stop.
- Bugle Boy told of some internet research he was doing. This led to something about Fat Crashing Bastard and Too Easy avoiding a car accident by standing in the middle of the road. I sort of missed it, sorry.
- Bugle Boy then told of a conversation between Quickie and Boo. Quickie, at home, heard a traffic alert on the radio and urgently rang Boo, who was driving home from work. ‘Boo, be careful, there’s a lunatic driving the wrong way on the CTE.’ Boo frantically replied ‘There’s not just one, there’s hundreds of them.’

This was told so well that Mother Tongue asked if it was true.

Whew! What a Relief to Learn This

Ever walk into a room with some purpose in mind, only to completely forget what that purpose was? It turns out, doors themselves are to blame for these strange memory lapses. Psychologists at the University of Notre Dame have discovered that passing through a doorway triggers what's known as an event boundary in the mind, separating one set of thoughts and memories from the next. Your brain files away the thoughts you had in the previous room and prepares a blank slate for the new locale.

Thank goodness for studies like this. It's not our age, it's that f!#@*^g door!

News Letter

- “Claim” a run from the Hareline – that is, for runs that do not yet have hares, agree to set the run.
- For runs you have claimed:
  - Update your co-hares from the members list or add guest hares.
  - Edit the run and on-on location, special occasion and other notes.
  - Update the map with the run and on-on location so it automatically shows up on the web site.

All you need to do is ask Sneaky Comer by email or at a run.

National Parks

- Hares must give at least 4 weeks' notice to the GM's if intending to set a run in a Nature Reserve.
- The GM will advise the procedure to get permission from National Parks. (To be revised once procedure is complete).
- Only toilet paper is allowed at the Nature Reserves. Flour and chalk are not to be used under any circumstances.
- Paper should be laid conservatively and inconspicuously to the general public.
- Hares are responsible to clear up the paper by the next day or the sweeper is to clear up the trail. (This is to be done irrespective of where the run is laid).
- Stick to the existing tracks (i.e. those clearly marked by the Npark) if you are laying runs in the Nature Reserves.
- Strictly NO CHOPPING of plants in the Nature Reserves.
- No Creating or cutting a new path in the Nature Reserves.
- No arrows to be drawn on the roads or anywhere else in the nature Reserves.
- Hares are accountable for their runs and if in the event a fine is imposed the hares will have to bear the cost. These fines are significant. (Up to $500). Repeat offences will lead to even heavier fines and result in that Hash Chapter being banned from running in Nature Reserves for 6 months.
- Outside the Nature Reserves, use flour only on the ground and not on tree trunks.
- Labrador park, SungeiBuloh, Kent Ridge Park and Mount Faber are also managed by the Nparks, so be mindful when setting runs there.
- Maps of the Central Catchment area are appended below.

Nparks now have a contact for each Hash Chapter in Singapore (in most cases the GM) and will call up any chapter that breaches any of these rules and will ban the Chapter till the matter is resolved. A warning will also be issued to the chapter. A fine will be imposed if a second breach is committed. The hares will have to bear the cost of the fine.

Hares will need to think even more carefully about their run sites and trails.

News Letter

Hares will need to plan their run well in advance. Sweepers will become increasingly important – for making sure all runners return safely and for picking up the paper. Late comers to a run may find that there is no trail left to follow as the sweeper will have picked it up. These guidelines have been agreed on by all Hash Chapters in Singapore
